For the most current mechanical codes that address the design and installation of the most current mechanical systems, use the 2015 INTERNATIONAL MECHANICAL CODE LOOSE LEAF. Designed to provide comprehensive regulations for mechanical systems and equipment, it includes coverage of HVAC, exhaust systems, chimneys and vents, ducts, appliances, boilers, water heaters, refrigerators, hydronic piping, and solar systems. This valuable reference uses prescriptive- and performance- related provisions to establish minimum regulations for a variety of systems. This updated code includes information on condensate pumps, and the ventilation system for enclosed parking garages.

Uniform Housing Code

2015 Uniform Mechanical Code

This comprehensive code comprises all building, plumbing, mechanical, fuel gas and electrical requirements for one- and two-family dwellings and townhouses up to three stories. The IRC contains many important changes such as: An updated seismic map reflects the most conservative Seismic Design Category (SDC) based on any soil type and a new map reflects less conservative SDCs when Site Class A, B or D is applicable. The townhouse separation provisions now include options for using two separate fire-resistant-rated walls or a common wall. An emergency escape and rescue opening is no longer required in basement sleeping rooms where the dwelling has an automatic fire sprinkler system and the basement has a second means of egress or an emergency escape opening. The exemption for interconnection of smoke alarms in existing areas has been deleted. New girder/header tables have been revised to incorporate the use of #2 Southern Pine in lieu of #1 Southern Pine. New tables address alternative wood stud heights and the required number of full height studs in high wind areas.

What do you get when you take the most well-respected code organization in the industry, have them develop a comprehensive resource for learning and applying the 2012 International Mechanical Code (IMC), and put it all into a single, electronic format? The 2012 INTERNATIONAL MECHANICAL CODE COMMENTARY CD. This innovative tool from the highly regarded International Code Council (ICC) contains the complete text of the 2012 IMC, which includes provisions for ventilation, exhaust systems, duct systems, hydronic heating, and more. But the ICC didn't stop there. With the click of a button, users can also access detailed notes and explanations that follow each section of the code and expand on the regulations covered. With an emphasis on placing the code in a practical, real-world context, the commentaries examine its implications, methods of application, and even the potential consequences that may arise if not followed. A must-have for anyone in or entering the industry, this CD will instill you with confidence that you can quickly and easily access the information you need to safely and effectively abide by the 2012 IMC. Prepared by the Civil Engineering Innovative Technology Evaluation Center, a CERF innovation center serving the engineering and construction industries. This report presents a CEITEC evaluation of the Trevipark automated parking system, which was developed, designed, and supplied by TREVI S.p.A., of Cesena, Italy. The evaluation is designed to determine the benefits and limitations of Trevipark for use as a technically viable automated vehicle parking system. The evaluation focused on data collection, site inspections, and analyses. The Trevipark system consists of a cylindrical enclosure with a central elevator system to park and store vehicles in a radial pattern. This proprietary system is intended to provide safe and secure parking for lower cost, smaller site and space requirements, less retrieval time, and other advantages.
