Management and Organizational Behavior: An Integrated Perspective blends the traditional management and organizational behavior topics by presenting the technical aspects of management and managerial practice, as well as its social-psychological and behavior consequences. The authors present an integrative model that positions Management philosophy as a force which shapes the practice of management and organization design, both of which impact and explain organizational behavior. The text emphasizes that to be a strategic manager, there must be an understanding of the organization, management process, individuals as members, and the deep interrelationship between all these areas.

The book "COMMERCE SET-NET-JRF-A COMPREHENSIVE LOOK" is a comprehensive book for aspirants in the domain of Commerce and Management. All the subjects are very well incorporated in this book. NTA has revised the new pattern of examination and we have designed the book to meet those specific requirements. Practically speaking since last eight years I have given SET-NET Exams, I have faced a big challenge of books for exams. There are very few books in the domain of Commerce and Management. These books are like guide format which consists question and answers without proper justification of answers. Exams are tough nowadays and relying on limited source of information is waste of time. By realizing this need we have designed this book "COMMERCE SET-NET-JRF-A COMPREHENSIVE LOOK" This book has taken into consideration every single aspect which aspirant think he should have in his hand while preparing for the exam. My expertise in this domain is since last eight years and I have qualified exams for record 17 times in the domain of Commerce and Management. We have carefully gone through all the state level exam papers, their level of difficulty and provided valuable justification at the end of the each question. Subject like Economics can be very well understood through diagrams. We have incorporated diagrams in the book wherever necessary. Most of the information provided in this book is taken from authentic and original source with due acknowledgement to them. All the subjects are very well incorporated in this book and it will be a must-read book for all the aspirants.

Graduate education in business administration was developed in the United States around the turn of the twentieth century. MBA and similar graduate-level business programs took hold more slowly in other countries, but the number of such programs expanded rapidly from the 1960s onward. In an effort to determine what firms from other countries require from business school graduates, the International Finance Corporation conducted a survey of the quality of business education in these countries. The survey results imply that the strengths and weaknesses of developing and transition country MBAs seem to overlap with those of MBAs from the U.S.: managers in the U.S. and in the developing countries find that the technical and analytical skills of MBAs are well developed while practical training and communication skills are significantly lacking. On the whole, only the African and Middle Eastern firms were significantly dissatisfied with the quality of local MBA graduates. The survey results show that MBAs worldwide are not fully satisfying the needs of firms. Each of the other regions of the world has its own particular weaknesses, and at the same time some common weaknesses (such as work experience and communication skills) stand out. These results show that a "cookie-cutter" approach to training MBAs cannot work. Rather, MBA programs have to be tailored to suit the needs of the local business community while also teaching common business fundamentals. This paper--a product of the Global Business School Network, International Finance Corporation--is part of a larger effort to build the capacity of business schools in developing countries to train local managers.

Cost Accounting And Financial Management (For C.A. Course-1)

This—revised and enhanced—book examines the role of finance in supporting other functional areas while fostering an understanding of how financial decisions can create value. Corporate Finance covers areas related to estimating divisional cost of capital; executing a financing strategy; establishing debt and dividend policies consistent with the company's strategy and environment; choosing between dividends and stock repurchases; managing high growth and managing working capital. Its new topics include: - Corporate Financial Flexibility (Real options) - New Financial Instruments - Project Finance - Acquisitions and Control - Performance Measurement and Incentive Compensation The goal of this book is to provide a thorough understanding of how and why firms make their financial decisions the way they do and their impact on shareholder value. The central theme of the book is Value Based Management, which assumes that maximizing shareholder value is the governing objective of a firm. Each chapter of this new edition has detailed and real-life cases to help students easily understand and grasp concepts. The author has also provided the case-map of the Harvard Business School to make this book more user-friendly in classrooms. The inclusion of several new topics/cases, extensive pedagogical tools and a finance-for-non-finance approach make this book ideal for MBA/CA/CFA/ICWA students and executive education programs.
